

I am writing to ask that the Low Power FM not take priority over current FM translator service. I listen to Christian Radio station KLove and I could lose my radio station if the LPFM is given priority. As a Christian mother of 2 small children I feel it is important that my children have a radio station that does not play violent music or have announcers who make crude and improper comments on air. I believe that people have the right to chose which type of programming they listen to and if the new LPFM is given priority over current Fm translator service then we lose this option. KLove provides a valuable service to people who are trying to raise children in this violent world . We need to be able to provide them with safe stations promoting good values. Thank you!! Jennifer Sholder